Vancouver Heritage Register

Approved by Council October 8, 2024

Note: This Policy replaces the Vancouver Heritage Inventory (in effect September 23, 1986, to December 5, 1994) and the previous Vancouver Heritage Register (in effect December 6, 1994, to October 7, 2024).

TRUTH-TELLING STATEMENT

In the late 18th Century, Europeans arrived on the west coast of what we call Canada today and began to colonize the land of the xʷməθkʷəy̓əm (Musqueam), Sk̓wx̓wú7mesh (Squamish), and səliłwətał (Tsleil-Waututh) Nations who had been inhabiting these lands since time immemorial. The City of Vancouver was incorporated by the Province of British Columbia in 1886 and granted jurisdiction as a local government over these lands. One hundred years later, on the City's Centennial, the Vancouver Conservation Program was formally established. As a basis for the program, settlers surveyed the city and identified buildings, infrastructure, and landscapes that they determined to have historic and heritage value. The Vancouver Heritage Inventory was established by City Council in 1986 and adopted as the Vancouver Heritage Register (VHR) in 1994.

The long-term protection of these buildings, places, and spaces was prioritized. This has ensured, since its inception, the success of the Vancouver Heritage Register in preserving settler-oriented narratives, buildings, and monuments, thus enabling Eurocentric, colonial practices. These actions directly contribute to the elimination, displacement, and dispossession of xʷməθkʷəy̓əm (Musqueam), Sk̓wx̓wú7mesh (Squamish), and səliłwətał (Tsleil-Waututh) presence, and later Urban Indigenous presence, by minimizing their stewardship of these lands since time immemorial. The Vancouver Heritage Register continues to perpetuate the erasure of Indigenous cultural heritage.

The City of Vancouver acknowledges and recognizes the continued harm of the Vancouver Heritage Register and is committed to reckoning with the history of heritage by-laws, policies, and programs that uphold and perpetuate colonial violence and erasure of xʷməθkʷəy̓əm (Musqueam), Sk̓wx̓wú7mesh (Squamish), and səliłwətał (Tsleil-Waututh) people on unceded territories.

The Vancouver Heritage Register today is a land-planning tool used to guide changes to primarily Eurocentric and colonial heritage buildings through the permit application process. When reading this policy, note that the places and resources listed reflect a very limited and biased understanding of history, and do not embrace the full understanding of cultural heritage and the many diverse experiences and perspectives of the past, present, and future. The City of Vancouver is committed to continuous learning and partnership with xʷməθkʷəy̓əm (Musqueam), Sk̓wx̓wú7mesh (Squamish), and səliłwətał (Tsleil-Waututh) Nations, and is working towards new tools for the identification and protection of cultural heritage that uphold their knowledge and experiences. When deemed culturally appropriate, these tools may also be applied to Urban Indigenous cultural heritage.

1 BACKGROUND AND CONTEXT

As authorized by the Vancouver Charter, Council established the Vancouver Heritage Register (VHR) to identify heritage properties (buildings and structures), defined as real property with formally recognized heritage value. It is used primarily as a planning tool for their recognition and resource management (see section 6 below).

Upon adoption in 1994, the VHR incorporated listings from the Vancouver Heritage Inventory of 1986. On October 8, 2024, Council approved the updated VHR Policy. This policy implements values-based, equitable, people-centered approaches to heritage evaluation, planning and resource management that reflect Vancouver's culturally diverse communities.

There are other Council-adopted regulations, policies, and guidelines that may affect heritage property. Property owners, heritage professionals, and developers should always consult them before considering changes to a heritage property.

2 INTENT

The VHR features 2,272 properties that are formally recognized by Council for their heritage value. Heritage properties are arranged by address beginning with numbered avenues, followed by streets in alphabetical order. If a property's historic name or association is known, it may be noted in the Building Name/Specifics column, followed by notations for any legal protection or formal recognition in place.

The Appendix includes 220 items that were previously listed on the VHR without undergoing heritage evaluation. They are provided for reference.

3 POLICIES

3.1 VANCOUVER HERITAGE REGISTER (VHR) POLICIES

- 3.1.1 Properties listed on the VHR are formally recognised by Council for their heritage value in accordance with the City's Heritage Evaluation Methodology.
- 3.1.2 VHR applications are subject to the City's heritage evaluation process.
- 3.1.3 A property must be at least 20 years old to be considered for addition to the VHR.
- 3.1.4 The positively evaluated VHR application should be endorsed by the Vancouver Heritage Commission.
- 3.1.5 An addition to the VHR requires written consent of the property owner.
- 3.1.6 Additions to, or removals from, the VHR must be approved by City Council resolution.

4 DISCLAIMERS

The VHR features buildings and structures with formally recognized heritage status. Many other properties in the city with heritage value may be eligible for addition to the VHR. As they are either identified by city staff or brought forward by the property owner or public, they will be considered for addition to the VHR.

78 Chinatown and Gastown sites that are municipally designated but not evaluated have been included in the Appendix.

Properties in the First Shaughnessy Heritage Conservation Area (FSHCA) are protected by the Heritage Conservation Area Official Development Plan (HCA ODP). They were not listed on the VHR at the time of protection and thus have not been included in the Appendix. For accurate information on the protection status of properties in the FSHCA, refer to the List of Protected Heritage Properties \(HCA ODP – Appendix 4\).

The actual protection status of heritage properties listed on the VHR and Appendix is not affected by errors or omissions. A property title search is advised to verify legal protection status.

5 NOTATIONS AND DEFINITIONS

The following notations indicate any legal protection or formal recognition in place:

Table 1: Vancouver Heritage Register (VHR) Notations and Definitions

Notation	Explanation
